THE IOWA BRANCH OF THE VIRGINIA NUGENS

Columbus Nugen

This material includes a copy of a History, under this name, prepared by Mr. Columbus Nugen, of New London, Iowa, in 1924 (19 pages), plus supplementary material obtained from scrapbooks and notes kept by his niece, Margaret Elizabeth Ferrel Hayes, of New London, Iowa.

The index includes separate listings for the Ferrel, Hayes, Prickett, Nugen and Waters members listed, and another including all other family names. Women are listed both under their maiden name, and their married name, when available. All descendants of Richard Nugen are indicated with a subscript number according to their generation, with Richard given the first number. All women marrying a descendant of Richard Nugen are indicated by having their name underlined where it is listed with the family into which they married.

The data presented has not been brought up-to-date except through material in the scrapbook, except for several instances of personal knowledge by the present compiler.

THE IOWA BRANCH OF THE VIRGINIA NUGENS

STATE
HISTORICAL SOCIETY
OF IOWA

This data was collected by
Mr. Columbus Nugen
New London, Henry County, Iowa
A.D. 1924

This history is only intended to be a brief sketch of the life of the descendants of the Nugen Family.

Our data goes back to the year of 1750, which was somewhere near the birth of my Great Grand Father, Richard Nugen.

He no doubt had a large family but we have no definite knowledge of more than two of his children.

Great Grand Father's place of residence is not certainly known but is known to have been in the Eastern part of the United States.

These two sons, sometime in their early man-hood, became desirous of change and one of them went to the Southern part of the United States, and it is said he changed the spelling of his name by adding the letter T, making it read Nugent; however I do not know this to be true.

John, the other brother, who was my Grand Father, went to what was then considered the west, and settled in Virginia, in that part of the state which afterward became West Virginia. His home was on the Kanawa River; where he lived a few years and then moved further west into Indiana.

Grand Father married Mary See, who was a sister of Charles See the father of Michael See, who came west in an early day and settled in the State of Iowa. Michael See was a minister of the Gospel and was quite a noted character in this part of Iowa; many of the older Nugens of this country will remember him well.

John Nugen and Mary See Nugen his wife had a very large family, fourteen children in all, two of them died in early life; the remaining twelve all lived to be very old people.

It is said that there was a period of over sixty years in which there was no death in this family; which is indeed a very unusual occurrence, especially in so large a family as this one.

Grand Father, John Nugen's death occurred, July 11, 1859, according to the family record kept by my father, David Nugen.

The names of the children of John Nugen who lived to man and womanhood, are as follows: David, Jarrett, Charles, Silas, George, Thomas, Elizabeth, Theresa, Margaret, Nancy, Mary, Lucy Ann.

They all married and had large families. I should like to trace the descent of each of the family but on account of their being scattered all over the United States it would be impossible to do so. Therefore I will attempt to trace only the genealogy of the four sons who came to Iowa in an early day, that is, of David, Charles, Jarrett and Silas.

David Nugen.

David Nugen was born October 15, A.D. 1810, in the state of Virginia. In the year 1833 he married Elizabeth Rector who was born in North Carolina February 4, 1812 and came to Indiana when about 15 years old. After marriage they made their home in Indiana until the year 1840 when with their four little children they moved to Iowa. They settled on a farm near New London, Iowa, and made it their permanent home.

They had a family of ten children, eight of whom lived to man and womanhood. Two died in infancy. The names of the family follow in order of their birth: Mary J., John D., Nancy, Elizabeth E., Richard, Franklin, Jarrett, David, Charles, Columbus. Franklin and Charles were those who passed in infancy.

Mary J. Nugen.

Mary J. Nugen was born Jan. 5, A.D. 1834 in Indiana and came to Iowa when about 7 years of age, was twice married. First husband was John P. Kennett who enlisted in the civil war, Co. K., 25th Regular Iowa Volunteers and was killed in the rifle pits at the siege of Vicksburg.

Mary J. Nugen's second husband was John C. Nugen [son of Charles Nugen], also a soldier of the Civil War. He was born in Iowa in 1839 and followed the occupation of farming. He enlisted as a volunteer in Aug. 1862 in Co. K, 25th Regulars, honorably discharged June 1865 at Washington, D.C., by reason of expiration of term of service. They were married in 1865; two children were born to this union, George W. and Nancy.

George W. Nugen.

George W. Nugen and Ollie Clingman were married October 7, 1903; to this union were born two children, Genevia and Birdie. Genevia Nugen died Dec. 2, 1918, about the time she was blooming into womanhood.

Nancy Nugen.

Nancy Nugen married Reuben Hansen, Dec. 25, 1907; both parties were born in the state of Iowa. One son was born to this union, John Hansen.

John D. Nugen.

John D. Nugen, oldest son of David and Elizabeth Nugen, was born in the state of Indiana in the year A.D. 1835, came to Iowa with his parents in 1840; he took a very active part in helping to improve and build up his father's home place just West of the town of New London. In pioneer days such labor was required; all fencing was made of home made rails; as well as other strenuous duties, such as this generation know not of.

John D. married Margaret Farrel. To this union were born ten children, two of which died in infancy. Eight lived to man and womanhood, they are as follows: Emma, David, John P., Frank, Nancy, Bert, Lewis, Columbus.

Emma E. Nugen.

Emma E. Nugen, oldest daughter of John D. and Margaret Nugen, was born in Iowa, in the year of 1860. Married John Rigden and shortly moved to Idaho. After living there a few years, they moved to Utah, and now live in Salt Lake City. They have two children, John Rigden and Mamie Rigden.

David J. Nugen.

David J. Nugen, eldest son of John D. and Margaret Nugen, was born in Iowa, in 1861; was married twice, his first wife was Belle Rithemier, there was two children, Leroy Nugen and Bertha Nugen. His second wife was Froretta Cary, there are no children by last marriage. They now live in Montana.

Bertha Nugen. Bertha Nugen, daughter of David J. Nugen, was united in marriage to Gilbert Johnson, and to this union two children were born, Marvel Johnson and Lucille Johnson. After the death of Gilbert Johnson, Bertha married Roy Menafee.

Leroy Nugen. Leroy Nugen, son of David J. Nugen, while still a young man went West to Idaho and homesteaded 160 acres of land. He returned to Burlington, Iowa, where he was married, and they went back to Idaho where they now live.

John Paschal Nugen.

John P. Nugen, son of John D. and Margaret Nugen, was born on the farm west of New London, married Emma Hill, and three children were born to this union, Nellie, Emma and Della.

Nellie Nugen. Nellie Nugen, daughter of John P. and Emma Nugen, was born in Lee Co., Iowa. She married a Mr. Garrison. According to the record we have obtained the descendants of Silas R. Nugen, Sr., from Great Grandfather Richard Nugen down to the present (1924) number one hundred twenty (120) people.

The grand total of descendants from the four Nugen brothers who came to Iowa in 1840, to date, is close to four hundred (400) people.

In writing this history, I find a great similarity of given names and have tried to make it so plain that any one interested in tracing any individual or individuals would have no difficulty in tracing them back to the family from which they originally sprung.

This record is made up in part from personal recollection and from interviewing older relatives, in part from data from Family records, and in part by correspondence with different people related or connected to the Nugen family.

I, Columbus Nugen, have taken considerable pains to get the facts, and if errors have been made I hope they are few and of minor importance.

If, at a future date, some reader of this History shall take the trouble to carry it forward and make a permanent Record, I will have accomplished all that I started out to do.

Now, as a closing thought, I hope all who may read this History of the Nugen family, will make out of their life, all that is possible in the way of usefulness, the living of a life is a serious business. The life that absorbs from the world--gets everything it can out of the world--and gives back nothing to the world, IS NOT WORTH WHILE, but is a flat waste of human force.

New London, Iowa, April 12, 1924.

SUPPLEMENT

The copy of Columbus Nugen's 1924 work which I recopied belonged to my grandmother, Margaret Elizabeth Ferrel Hayes. It contains several inked corrections which probably she inserted. She also kept a series of scrapbooks in which she pasted many clippings from newspapers relating to members of her family and her relatives. This supplement is based upon these items, plus other information gathered from her and others of the family. I have not attempted to correspond with the various branches of the Nugen family mentioned in the work, to bring the material up-to-date.

Michael See (page 1). Referring to the comment that many of the older Nugens will remember him, Mrs. Hayes wrote: "I, M. E. Hayes, do remember him." A clipping from the Burlington Hawk-Eye is as follows: Several days ago the Hawk-Eye chronicled the death of Mrs. Michael See, at her home in Mediapolis. Mrs. See was an own niece of Abraham Lincoln. Her maiden name was Hanks. Neither she or her husband ever voluntarily referred to this fact of relationship and when friends would ask concerning it there was an evident reluctance on the part of both to discuss the subject. Mrs. See, however, admitted the relationship on several occasions, one of these being in an interview with the Gossiper's informant. At that time the lady was nearing her 80th year, and, altho disinclined to do so told some of the incidents of her early life in Illinois. Her knowledge of Lincoln was chiefly in the early days of his life before he even became a lawyer. The Hanks family were often sore tried with poverty and Abe was compelled to take up any sort of work that would aid in support of the family. At one time Abe peddled patent medicines and in his rounds he came to the home of his niece's folks. Here he was taken down with the ague and was confined for several days. Miss Hanks helped wait on here Uncle Abe and she declares that she never has known a crosser man than Lincoln during that time.

"After Miss Hanks married Mr. See she came to Iowa with him and they set up housekeeping on a farm near her present late home. See, altho later noted as one of the most prominent of pioneer Methodist ministers, was at that time a notorious character among the rough element of the country. His reputation ~~for~~ strength and prowess was widely known. His reformation is one of the many interesting episodes of early Methodism in this part of the west. A revival was in progress near his home and he with all others of the vicinity attended. His first purpose was to have a good time and to whip anyone who happened to think See was not the best man in the country.

"On the particular occasion of this reference See got into a fight with a tough of the neighborhood. The other drew a knife and to escape a thrust from it See ran down the main aisle of the camp meeting booth. When he had gotten far enough ahead of his assailant to turn on him he did so suddenly and dealt him a blow with his fist that knocked him down and out.

"It was then that See resolved to change his course of life, and in a short time became converted."

David Nugen (p2). Died Jan. 26, 1895. Elizabeth Rector Nugen d. March 12, 1899. She may have been about 18 when she moved to Indiana. Mrs. Hayes' scrapbooks include pictures of Mrs. Nugen, her brother Jack (then from Earlville, Iowa), and her sons David and Jarrett. Dates of pictures not indicated; altho a note says Jack was age 61, on Nov. 16.

Mary J. Nugen. Mrs. Hayes in 1963 told me that John C. Nugen, Mary's second husband, escorted the body of her first husband back to New London.

George W. Nugen. He served as county supervisor. His daughter Mary Cynthia (Berdie), b. Oct. 28, 1907 at New London, married Robert A. Foggy, Mar. 10, 1936, at Crown Point, Ind., and d. May 20, 1959. She had served as deputy county auditor, and was noted for her ability in mathematics (as was her father); she added election returns manually "in less than half the time anyone could on an adding machine and they were all correct."

August 2, 1951, Robert and his son Robert Adam Foggy attended a state trapshoot, and the son was second high in his class. Later, at age 12, the son was killed when thrown off a horse in front of a motorcycle. (1952). A sister, Nancy Jo, survives.

Mrs. George W. Nugen also died in 1952.

Nancy Nugen. Her son, John N. Hanson, m. Catherine Bell; with their children Virginia Lee and Mary Ann they were living on the family farm near New London; Reuben and ~~Margy~~ moved from the farm to New London and he engaged in buying and shipping stock.

Emma Nugen (Rigden). d. 1927.

David J. Nugen. b. Dec. 19, 1861. First wife's last name may be Rithemeier.

Leroy Nugen. b. 1886.

John Paschal Nugen. (Pascal), in 1928 was living near Glasgow, Ia. His wife Emma was living in Fairfield, in 1957/8.

Nellie Nugen (Garrison). m. Loren Garrison. They had 8 children, 6 of whom were living at the time of the story.

Della Nugen (Giberson). m. Harlie Giberson. They had 5 children.

Irma Nugen (Loving). m. Willis Loving, 1st; Chester Dorothy 2d. They lived in Fairfield. There were 4 children of the first marriage; 2 sons died young. Verlin, b. 1921, married Bonnie Darlene Samuelson Nov. 20, 1943, at Kahoka, Mo.; d. while on a visit in Fairfield 1957/58. He was then living in Burlington, and was a flagman on the CB&Q Railroad. Irma's other child is Marjorie Duwald of Burlington.

Nancy Nugen (Argensinger). There were two sons, John D. and James G., that died in infancy. Daniel Argensinger d. Apr. 6, 1933.

Frank Nugen (p4). d. several years before 1928. A clipping, apparently c. 1959, indicates that Howard A. Nugen, son of Howard C. Nugen, 2518 Gear (Burlington?), married Beverly Wittlesey of Gladstone, Illinois. The groom, a graduate of Iowa Wesleyan College, was employed by Central State Bank, Muscatine, Iowa.

Lewis (Lou) Nugen lived in New London area much of his life, d. Fairfield, June 11, 1954, age 82, survived by Ralph. Clyde d. Oct. 27, 1943. Two children, a daughter and a son, died in infancy. His golden wedding anniversary was July 11, 1950; his 2d wife d. Jan. 23, 1953. In May, 31, 1951, they had a family dinner attended by four of Columbus' children and their families, and Mrs. Bert Nugen.

Bert Nugen. His name may have been Vergil Bert. His first wife was Iona Russel.

Columbus Nugen. His name may have been Columbus William Nugen. b. Sept. 23, 1878, d. May 8, 1929. When he died Wilbur was living in Aurora, Ill., Delma with uncle Bert, and Merlin and Ronald with aunt Nancy. He m. Nov. 30, 1905; and lived on a farm west of New London. His w. d. Apr. 1923.

Delphine, m. Glen (H.) McKain, was living in Deep River, in 1951; has son Glen (and possibly a daughter Jeanean Coulter, who may however have been a friend of the son).

At the time of Lou Nugen's 1951 family dinner, Dr. & Mrs. M. W. (Merlin) and son Bill were living in Peoria; Dr. & Mrs. W.D. (Wilbur), Corral, Cheryl and Camella were living in Pekin; and Mr. & Mrs. Clarence Smith (Delma?), Daryl, Myrna, Karen and Ronnie were living near Donnelson, Iowa.

Merlin m. Marian Howard, of New London, at Morning Sun, Nov. 14, 1942; they lived in Peoria 16 years before her death at age 35; there were two sons, William, 10, and Kenneth, 8, at her death.

Nancy Nugen (Ferrel). Her husband also operated a New London hotel for 19 months. He d. around 1916; she d. around 1927. The son indicated as Columbus F. probably is incorrectly identified, and should be (James) Columbus. Nancy and James' obituaries are in the scrapbooks. A friend who lived near her family in pioneer days and later was her neighbor in New London said of Her: "Mrs. Ferrel was a wonderful wife, mother and friend, and was a woman of strong character. Her manner was always gracious, and in her presence one always felt the warmth of a cheerful nature."

Mary Belle Ferrel (Pricket). Livilla should be Lovilla. George and Mary lived in Saskatchewan for many years, but moved back to Iowa.

Elizabeth Pricket(Waters). (p5). Scrapbook includes stories on her 60th wedding anniversary, Dec. 20, 1959, and 50th anniversary. Philip should be Philo W., Rose should be Ross E. In 1959 there were 13 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren.

Margaret Elizabeth Ferrel (Hayes). Although the name was spelled "Farrel" throughout Mr. Nugen's manuscript, I usually find it "Ferrel" elsewhere. She d. Dec. 25, 1965; A. D. Hayes d. July 3, 1935. One of her notes says: "When I was a small child the Country Club (which is northeast of New London) was just a piece of land. My father's uncle Pierson owned the land. Now it is a park and owned by people who live in New London, Burlington and farmers around, and we have a lake now large enough for boats to sail in and fish and swim, a real country club. When I was born there was a log cabin there in which we lived. My parents James M. Ferrel and Nancy Nugen Ferrel lived in the log cabin at the time of my birth. I started to a country school before I was 5 years old and uncle Columbus would take me a straddle of his shoulders and take me home with him after school, if it was raining. The three youngest sons of the Nugen family were never married and all lived at the home of my grandparents and cared for them and their farm. They had land of their own which they rented out as it was land near by. We lived in the neighborhood of the same school but on another road for us. Then our father and mother would drive after us. My sister Mary Bell who was most 2 years older than I were the only children at that time." She and A.D. Hayes went to Howe's Academy, in Mt. Pleasant.

James (David) Hayes, d. 1966. Jamie apparently had infantile paralysis around age 11, and was crippled and had a speech defect until his death. He did work at his father's grain elevator. He lived with his mother until she was 96; then moved to a nursing home.

Columbus (Ferrel) Hayes, d. Dec. 5, 1966. C.F. was graduate of Iowa Wesleyan College, 1915, and University of Illinois, 1917. President, A. D. Hayes Co., 1933-1966. Elizabeth E. Nugen (Pierson) (p8). d. Mar. 12, 1929, in New London, buried Burge Cemetery. Newspaper story said she was fondly called "Aunt Betty" by many of her younger friends. She had the qualities of a pioneer daughter, wife and mother, and she and her sister, Mrs. Ferrel were authorities on the ways of carrying on a household in the early days of Iowa. 'She was a wonderful neighbor and a true friend--kindness itself to those about her,' said one of her lifelong friends. 'It was always a pleasure to be in her company. She and her sisters, Mrs. Ferrel and Mrs. Nugen were devoted to one another and to their brothers, and all were spared many enjoyable years during old age.' (Her husband's name was Samuel Johnson Pierson. The 1879 Henry County History states that he removed to Pennsylvania--Washington Co.--his parents' native home; his brother, J.Q.A. Pierson, was born there in 1844; the family moved to West Virginia and lived there 9 years before coming to Henry Co., Iowa. He had been president of the New London school board, and on the Henry Co. Board of Supervisors).

David A(bner) Pierson. Also director and vice president of Farmers State Bank. "He has all of his life been straightforward in his dealings with everyone, and has never failed to take an active interest in the welfare of the town of New London," said one of his friends who has known him since his birth. Elizabeth Nugen (Prettyman) (p11). Also known as Beth. Was living in Palo Alto, Calif.

Charles Nugen. d. in 1885 at Parsons, Kansas; his wife d. there in 1887. His name is on the list of voters in New London in the Poll Book of 1840. Mr. Thomas Hennessee remembers Charles Nugen as a man who was just and fair, and he related the following incident as an example of these traits of character.

'During the Civil War,' said Mr. Hennessee, 'one only heard of Republicans and Copperheads. My father was a Democrat. One day I was out near the depot watching the boys drill with their guns. It was the thing then for every boy who could get hold of a gun to take part in the practice. On this particular day, a boy whose father was active in the drilling, noticed me and called out:

'Why haven't you got a gun? You're a Copperhead! Copperhead! Copperhead! I think I'll shoot you!'

'He aimed the gun at me. I grabbed it, and in the scuffle, broke it just above the breech. He set up a hue and a cry about the "copperhead" breaking his gun. The whole crowd was soon against me, and it looked as if anything might happen. Pretty soon, though, a man spoke up and said they should hear what the boy had to say for himself. I told them what had happened, and he said:

'By the nation' he pronounced nation very slowly and emphatically. "By the nation, I believe the boy is right." That man was Charles Nugen. His words settled the crowd and they said no more about it. Three of his sons were serving in the Civil War then.'

John C(lampett) Nugen.

Silas R(ichard) Nugen (p12). He died from the effects of blood poisoning brought on by a carbuncle on his neck, which assumed a malignant form. "one of the most thrifty farmers in the community."

Dora A. Nugen (Pierson). Middle name was Ameda. d. July 1949.
